

Nufarm Academy – Virtual Learning Webinars

Produced to support growers and advisors with seasonal information on a diverse range of topics, the Nufarm Academy ensures users get the most out of Nufarm’s product range through a series of technical webinars.

With better understanding of the challenges facing growers today – crop quality and market demands, changing legislation, environmental and business sustainability – the Virtual Learning Webinars bring to life Nufarm’s Agronomy Solutions.

A range of webinars are available online now with several new screencasts to be added each month, providing interesting and educational content for successful crop managers across the grassland, arable, amenity and horticulture sectors, in addition to Nufarm’s Technical Bulletins and seasonal briefings.

Also check out Spraywise™ guidance & training

Spraywise is a comprehensive stewardship programme supporting professional users of crop protection products in all sectors, including grassland and arable production.

Nufarm have produced a 7-part video series with information and advice on best practice covering the entire spraying journey, from managing crop protection stores, through the filling and application process, before tackling issues around sprayer hygiene and washing out in-field.

With help from applications specialist Tom Robinson, and with special thanks to former Farm Sprayer Operators of the Year Iain Robertson and John Martin, the Spraywise content combines real-life examples of best practice with user-friendly decision-support tools to determine when and how to spray for optimum performance while minimising environmental impacts and maximising growers' return on investment.

The new Spraywise video series has 2 BASIS points and 4 NRoSO points attached.
